Pasha Koryakin

Serving in Russia and Siberia

The Koryakin family continues to faithfully serve in Russia and Siberia. This year, they trained and encouraged leaders, worked with unbelieving students, shared ministry experiences with other leaders, trained churches in implementing JFYM, held student camps, and so much more.

One pastor wrote of his experience with Pasha and the JFYM training at his church: JFYM came to our church at just the right time. Our youth were already participating in various ministries, but we had neither experience nor knowledge in setting up organized youth ministry. Thanks to the learning process, we were able to envision the structure of our youth ministry and the set the right goals. Our youth have begun to reveal spiritual values. They started a weekly prayer meeting, and they became more active in church affairs. I see them becoming a team. This is very important.

The summer camps they hosted were very successful! Pasha reported, "This summer, we held 8 camps of different formats for different age audiences, in which 322 people took part. Indirectly, over the summer of 2020, we influenced 2,690 people."

We are thankful for the Lord working in Russia and Siberia. We are also celebrating that the Koryakins' eldest son decided he wants to become a youth pastor in Russia!
